PREPARATION

FACTOID	The Boulevardier was first noted in print in 1927. Where the Negroni is crisp and lean, the Boulevardier is rich and intriguing. There's a slight difference in the preparation, but the end result is absolutely stunning.
1	Chill an Old Fashioned glass or small tumbler in your freezer. In a mixing glass filled with ice. Stir until glass is very cold, about 1 minute. Stir in the Bourbon / Rye, Campari and Vermouth. Strain into the chilled cocktail glass. Garnish with a lemon twist.
